

Music Tomorrow 2020 to be cancelled

As part of the preventive measures against the spread of the novel coronavirus infection, the NHK Symphony Orchestra will regrettably call off its Music Tomorrow 2020 concert which had been scheduled for Monday, May 4th (public holiday). We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause to those who have been looking forward to the performance, but we ask for your kind understanding.

Tickets for the concerts will be refunded, so please keep the ticket/s you have purchased safe. As for how to receive the refund, either N-kyo guide or the ticket agency where you purchased the ticket/s will be contacting you around late-April.

Music Tomorrow 2020 CANCELLED

Monday (public holiday), May 4, 2020 4:00p.m.

Tokyo Opera City Concert Hall

Robert Spano, conductor

Noah Bendix-Balgley, violin